

"What a Flower Can Do"

From "The Blossom Shoppe"

Poppy: Does the sun look a little bit brighter today?

Posie: Well perhaps a little less gray! Could today be the day that things finally change?

Together: And someone will come in and say...

Posie: One flower please!

Poppy: Why, yesiree!

Posie: What colors do you have for me?

Poppy: Why, every gray you'd ever need! From slate to dove and everything in between!

Posie: I think that gray is lov-e-ly!

Together: If only they would come in and see What we've got inside our Blossom Shoppe.

If only we could make them believe!

Think how happy they'd be just like you and me!

Still the town thinks our shop is just silly,
But to us our flowers are family.

If only they knew too,
just what a flower can do!

Poppy: When flowers bloom a simple room becomes so much more.
Together: The joy they make, with us we take, outside this door!
Posie: A bright bouquet can sometimes say what words cannot...
Poppy: Like "I love you"!
Posie: Or "I'm thinking of you"!
Together: Grows from a lovely little flower pot!

Though now they do not appreciate,
Just what makes our flowers great.
I know we've got just what it takes!
No matter what, I believe in us.
In a town that's so dull and so gray,
I believe we can make a change.
Change their point of view
so the whole town knows too...

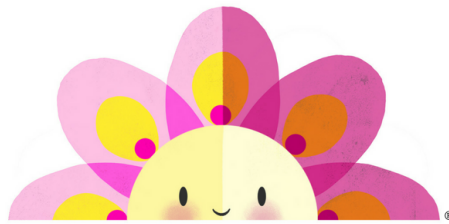

Poppy: Just what a flower--

Posie: Just what a flower--

Together: Just what a flower can do!
