

Sweet Dreams, Little Seed

The Lullaby from "The Blossom Shoppe"

Lyrics: Caroline Brickley
and Katherine Brickley

Music: Caroline Brickley,
Katherine Brickley,
and Joshua Fourie

$\text{♩} = 95$

5 Sweet dreams, lit - tle seed. Good - night and 9 sleep tight. You're more than you seem your fu - ture is 13 bright! For when you're a - sleep you'll grow more and 17 more. And when you wake the world will be diff-erent than be -

21 fore. Sweet dreams, lit - tle seed.

25 Al - though you don't know, you're just what we need to save our sweet home! A seed that's not gray! Where Detailed description: This is a musical score for a lullaby. It is written in 3/4 time with a tempo of 95 beats per minute. The score consists of seven staves of music. The melody is simple and gentle, using mostly quarter and eighth notes. The lyrics are written below the notes. The score includes measure numbers 5, 9, 13, 17, 21, and 25. The lyrics are: 'Sweet dreams, lit - tle seed. Good - night and sleep tight. You're more than you seem your fu - ture is bright! For when you're a - sleep you'll grow more and more. And when you wake the world will be diff-erent than be - fore. Sweet dreams, lit - tle seed. Al - though you don't know, you're just what we need to save our sweet home! A seed that's not gray! Where'.

29
 did you come from? Star - ting to - day 33
 we'll be - lieve in what you can 37
 be - come. Ah - - - 41
 ah - - ah - ah What will you 45
 be - come?

Lyrics:

Sweet dreams, little seed.
 Goodnight and sleep tight.
 You're more than you seem your future is bright!

For when you're asleep
 You'll grow more and more.
 And when you wake the world will be Different than before.

Sweet dreams, little seed.
 Although you don't know,
 You're just what we need to save our sweet home!

A seed that's not gray!
 Where did you come from?
 Starting today
 We'll believe in what you can become.

Ahhh

What will you become?